Appendix A
Maps

A series of maps has been prepared to assist planners, public officials and citizens to understand Irasburg and to assist in the planning process, and governmental and business decisions. These maps are for planning purposes only. The policies and actions, and associated narrative discussions in the body of the Town Plan prevail as the guidelines for the Town’s future growth.

Map showing residential development in Irasburg in 1878. Note the presence of 11 district schools. Except for school consolidation, twenty-first-century development in Irasburg follows essentially the same pattern of residential dwellings located along the principal routes radiating from the concentrated Village Center.
